

PUT YOUR SCIENCE TO WORK

PRACTICAL ADVICE & PROVEN TECHNIQUES TO
LAND THE JOB OF YOUR DREAMS

APS Career Workshop at the 2012 March Meeting
Featuring PETER FISKE, Ph.D.
Speaking on Scientific Careers for New &
Mid-Career Scientists

Sunday, 26 February 2012, 4:00–7:00pm
Boston Convention Center, Room 159

Presented by APS and the APS Committee on Careers & Professional Development

In this unprecedented time in recent economic history, jobseekers and current employees are facing uncertainty in the job market. Scientists, both young and mid-career, in nearly every field are finding today's job market a confusing and frustrating place. Yet, savvy scientists are considering a wider range of careers in and out of science and are investing the time it takes to be prepared and informed about their options.

Peter Fiske, PhD. is CEO of PAX Mixer, Inc. and the author of Put Your Science to Work: The Take Charge Career Guide for Scientists. Fiske received his Ph.D. in Geological and Environmental Sciences in 1994 from Stanford University & an MBA from U.C. Berkeley in 2002. In 1996 Fiske was awarded a White House Fellowship & served one year in the Clinton Administration as Special Assistant to the Secretary of Defense for Special Projects. He is the author of 22 technical articles, and a former member of the technical staff of Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory.

Learn about and discuss the latest industry topics!

- Current and Future Employment Trends and Your Options
- Overview of Effective Career Planning and Job Hunting
- The TRUE Breadth of Career Opportunities for Ph.D.s
- Sought-after Skills and Experience
- Developing a Compelling CV, Resume and Cover Letter
- And much more...

For questions, please contact:
Crystal Bailey,
APS Education and Career Program Manager
Email: bailey@aps.org
Phone: 301-209-3207

